Broadband for America:
A Roadmap to Broadband Adoption

Braodband for America, The US Internet Industry Association and Net Literacy invite you to join in a special conference to help bring the rest of America online through programs to stimulate broadband adoption.

When: Tuesday, June 22

Where: Park Hyatt Washington
in Washington, DC

Aimed at policy makers, broadband providers, community service agencies, municipal managers, consultants, educators and economic development leaders, this conference is a roadmap to build effective and sustainable community programs for broadband adoption and use among the one-third of Americans not currently online.
